Longtime Tinkergarten teacher Amy Carson will lead kids and their beloved grown-ups through six playful, purposeful outdoor learning sessions following Tinkergarten's summer "Sensory" curriculum.

The curriculum includes irresistible play activities that help kids strengthen and balance their senses, which are central to how we experience the world, how we behave, and how we learn. And, as in every season, kids will forge deep, lasting connections to the natural world!

Along with the six live class sessions, you'll also receive weekly resources to help you continue playing and learning at home.
